

The following page contains secret codes that give the answers to these questions:

What letter am I thinking of?

What is my favorite number?

What shape am I thinking of?

What shape am I thinking of?

What animal am I thinking of?

What is the secret message?

To find the answers, you will need to print out the page, and then cut each message up into pieces of equal length, with the least possible number of pieces. When you stack the pieces on top of one another you'll see the message.

Hint: you may want to start by counting the number of circles in each row.
